

THINGS WORTH KNOWING.

Some Postal Regulations Very Important to be Strictly Observed.

Postmaster Davis says the number of letters mailed with only a one-cent stamp on at the Mayville Postoffice, will average a dozen a day. In each case the addressee has to be informed by card to send the deficient postage, which causes delay in delivery.

One cent will not deliver a local letter in the city of mailing, if a free delivery office.

Newspapers must be fully prepaid—four ounces for a cent; over four to eight ounces two cents. If not fully prepaid the addressee is notified by card to send the deficient postage, which makes the news rather stale when the papers are received.

The postage rates are two cents an ounce for letters, merchandise, one cent an ounce, books and printed matter two ounces for one cent; newspapers and magazines four ounces for one cent.

To European and all Postal Union countries, letters half ounce, five cents; newspapers, four ounces, two cents. Always be sure your letter or package is properly addressed and stamped before you drop it in the box.

If persons would only bear in mind that these postal laws and rulings have to be strictly carried out by the postal employees there would be less complaint. Don't write anything on the face of a postal card except the address. If you do, it will be sent to the Dead Letter Office.

JACOB B. WILLIAMS, one of Campbell county's prominent citizens, dropped dead at Hagg Springs.

PENNSYLVANIA payments during December were in excess of $150,000, or at the rate of $18,000 a year.

THE Sunday-schools of that section of Adams county had an entertainment at Wheat Ridge Sunday. Mrs. Lillie B. Thurman of West Union had charge of the musical program, which was delightfully rendered.

THE Directors of the Masonic Savings Bank, Louisville, have been sued by the assignee of the wrecked concern for $75,000. It is alleged that they allowed money to be loaned without proper security, contrary to the by-laws of the institution.

JAMES KENDALL sent a note to Mrs. Lyman V. Pierce requesting her to meet him at the "Planters' Hotel in Owensboro. Mr. Pierce went along to see that there was no disappointment, and Kendall will die from the effect of a bullet in his bowels.

W. W. McILVAIN of this city, who has been at Melbourne, Australia, since August 1893, is expected to start home about the first of March when the present harvest season will be over. If he returns by way of London, which is probable, the journey will consume about three months.

It is understood that a large brass and iron foundry, the owners being wealthy citizens of Newport and Cincinnati, will shortly be started in the former city. All the inducements the projectors will want are free water from the city for the period of one year and a few minor compensations.

CHIEF COTTREHAM of Newport says he intends to remain Chief of Police, and continue his present force, after January 1st, on the grounds that the act appointing Police Commissioner, which was in force nine years ago, has never been repealed and the Mayor has no right to name the force.

"THE Cedars" located at Shawhan and owned by Captain T. E. Moore, was the scene of a destructive fire Saturday night, eight houses valued at $20,000 being burned. Three years ago Captain Moore had $80,000 worth of houses burned, and there was not a cent insurance on them.

REPORTS from twenty-one large herds of cattle in Wyoming show that the winter has been a favorable one for stock in all parts of the state. Range cattle everywhere are reported as in good condition. There are more cattle being fed this winter than in the past, and there will be less loss than in former years.

ALTHOUGH eleven years have elapsed since Indiana passed a law making women eligible to any office under the general and special school laws of that state, it is said that not a woman has been elected or appointed to a school office, and such a position has never been sought by them. In Kentucky there are several counties in which have women for School Superintendents.

JUDGES CHARNULT of Richmond dreamed President-elect Cleveland honored him with a visit. He was almost worried to death, fearing he would be besieged by office-seekers. He could not indorse the claims of all, and was afraid those who failed to receive his assistance would vote against him and prevent his re-election as County Judge. He awoke from his Christmas nightmare in a cold perspiration.

A YEAR or more ago the War Department notified the city of Frankfort to raise or remove the old wooden bridge connected with South Frankfort, claiming that it interferes with the navigation of the Kentucky river. The city paid no attention to the notice, and now the Department has instructed U. S. District Attorney Jolly to draw an indictment against the city of Frankfort in the Federal Court. This has stirred the Frankforters up, and they may find out that their town is not a "bigger" man than Uncle Sam.

"I do not recommend Chamberlain's Cough Remedy from a financial standpoint, for we have others in stock on which we make a larger profit," says A. Maggini, a prominent druggist of Bradock, Pa. But because many of our customers have spoken of it in the highest praise, we sell more of it than of any similar preparation we have in the store." For sale by Power & Reynolds, Druggists.
